

ICC Update – Suspending Physical Attendance

Last week, with the rising cases of Coronavirus in the DFW area and in Texas, the governor of Texas, Gregg Abbott, has communicated directives to re-close areas that may contribute to a high risk of spread for the coronavirus.

Though religious services are not specifically required to close, the intent of reducing exposure to gatherings to help reduce spread is the main focus of the directive. In line with that intent, the leadership at ICC feels that suspending physical attendance to church is again appropriate at this time, considering the fast rise of cases in the DFW area.

Starting this week, ICC will suspend physical attendance for church services until a later date that we feel is appropriate and safe for our church members to return without putting them at more risk.

We will continue to provide online services for worship, messages and bibles studies throughout the week. Continue to join us online during this season. Updates to these changes will be posted on our website, icctexas.org, as well as by email from icc@icctexas.org. We wish for everyone to stay safe and be blessed.

ICC Leadership

July 5th, 2020